

Safety Identification

Advantages of on-site safety sign printing

You've decided to take action and start creating a safer, leaner workplace with more visuals. Now it's time to consider two common labelling options: On-site/do-it-yourself (DIY) printing or ordering pre-printed labels and signs.

Let's take a look at the difference between the two in terms of time:

Do-it-Yourself Identification

You have a need for an identification label.

You walk up to your printer and create the label on a simple user interface, print it and apply it.

You print more when you want to make your facility safer and more efficient.

Pre-Printed Identification

You have a need for an identification label.

You do some research on where to order and what to order.

You decide to place the order, taking time to process the order and provide all of the necessary information.

The waiting begins.

An accident almost occurs because the label you needed wasn't in place to inform employees of the hazard.

You continue to wait for the label to arrive.

...still waiting.

The label arrives! You put it in place and realise you could really use a few more. Back to the drawing board!

The Choice is Simple!

Not only does on-site safety sign printing save you time, it is also...

Convenient

You can create labels from common templates and use a wide variety of label materials. Plus, with a printer on hand, you can pace your projects as needed.

Customisable

You can have multiple languages, consistent messaging and instructions your employees will understand.

Create signs and labels in any colour or shape on-site and on demand.
